

Online Resources from the Middle East

Uncommon information. Extraordinary places. Exceptional service.

For additional information on books, periodicals,
and online content, visit www.eastview.com.

Welcome to East View

Since 1989, East View Information Services has been providing high quality information products and services in native and translated foreign languages to a wide variety of academic, commercial and government customers throughout the world.

In 2006, our offering expanded with print resources from Turkey, Iran, and Egypt. In 2007, we reached out to online content providers in the Middle East and added Arabic e-books from Egypt. With popular uprisings blazing throughout the MENA region, East View foresees an unprecedented need and opportunity to document these dynamically changing societies by capturing and aggregating new content.

These places – with the most dynamic social, political and economic situations – are often the most interesting to the libraries, students, analysts and researchers you serve. They are at the core of East View's service to you.

Whether you seek academic or popular books in e-book format, online access to current newspapers and press archives, or subscriptions to important journal titles from the Middle East, you can rely on East View. Our expanded Middle Eastern offerings continue traditions started by East View twenty years ago.

East View is committed to sourcing uncommon information from extraordinary places supported with exceptional service. We look forward to serving you.

Kent D. Lee
President and CEO
East View Information Services

Table of Contents

Kotobarabia

Modern Arab Renaissance Collection	4
--	---

Index to Hebrew Periodicals	5
-----------------------------------	---

East View Information Services

East View's Commitment to Reliable Delivery of Middle East Content	6
--	---

E-Book Approval Plans and Serials from the Middle East, the Caucasus, and Central Asia	7
---	---

Kotobarabia

Kotobarabia, a pioneer creator of Arabic e-content and distributor specializing in the Arabic language, offers an online solution to increasing and diversifying any institution's offerings from the Middle East.

Two collections, Kotobarabia E-Library and Modern Arab Renaissance Collection, are hosted on servers in the United States through East View.

Modern Arab Renaissance Collection

The Modern Arab Renaissance Collection is made up of an exclusive electronic archive of books published from 1820-1914 from across the Islamic world, with special focus on Egypt and Syria.

- Coverage
- Over 3,000 titles cover the sciences and humanities: philosophy and theology, literature, arts, history and politics, including writings from Mahmoud Abdo, Gamal El Din El Afgahany and Rashid Reda.
- Search
- Content is mostly in Arabic, with metadata in both Arabic and English and bilingual English/Arabic search interface, including a virtual Arabic keyboard for easy text input.
- Format
- Arranged thematically and with accompanying MARC records
- Key features
- Printable and downloadable features
 - Ability to customize your titles list
 - Search functionalities by author, by title, by subject
 - Searchable PDF files in full-image and full-text
 - Type in Arabic on the virtual Arabic keyboard
 - Tracking option of favorite titles

Index to Hebrew Periodicals

The "Index to Hebrew Periodicals" is produced by the University of Haifa Library, Haifa, Israel.

A bibliographic indexing project covering articles from Hebrew periodicals, collections, and some monographs. IHP delivers content from 1977 in Hebrew, English, and other languages.

With an interface in Hebrew and English, the database currently contains over 715,000 items, by collection:

The Index to Hebrew Periodicals (IHP) – Abstracts of major Hebrew journals from 1977 to date with the exception of weeklies and newsletters. IHP covers a variety of subjects with an emphasis on Judaica, literature, education, arts, law, and current Israeli affairs (politics and society).

The Eretz Israel Database (EID) – A project of the University of Haifa Library in cooperation with the library of Yad Yitshak Ben Zvi, the purpose of EID is to complement the IHP with additional material relating to the history, geography, and archaeology of the land of Israel.

The Tel-Hai Index to Hebrew Newspapers (THIHN) – A project of Tel-Hai College Library in Upper Galilee, where indexing was produced and then input by the University of Haifa. Particular emphasis given to longer, analytical articles on social, economic, and political topics (including "op-ed" articles) as well as significant reviews of books, exhibitions, theater, and other cultural events.

The Bar-Ilan Indexing Project, carried out by the Indexing Unit of the Wurzweiler Central Library, consists of two parallel projects: 1) an index to articles in the literary supplements of the daily Hebrew press (1985–). Includes the supplements of Ha'aretz, Yediot Aharonot, Ma'ariv, Ha'tsofeh, Yated Ne'eman, Ha'modia, Al-Hamishmar, Davar and Hadashot (the latter three—until they ceased publication); and 2) indexes to other Hebrew periodicals: Orlogin (1950–1957), Melila (1944–1956), Bar-Ilan (1965–1989) and Molad (1948–1986).

East View Information Services

Top libraries recognize East View's commitment to reliable delivery of Middle East content

East View's services are informed by the deep experience of our own staff who understand the needs of organizations like yours. Our goal is to make the acquisition of foreign content easy and ensure smooth access and support.

East View's value-add make Middle Eastern databases viable for North American and European organizations:

- ➔ Inclusion of English interfaces wherever possible
- ➔ Persistent URL's
- ➔ Quality bibliographic citations, including US MARC records, and metadata
- ➔ Subscription / purchase models suited to North American and European libraries'
- ➔ Perpetual access solutions
- ➔ IP Authentication, including remote proxy
- ➔ Cross-searchable modules across platforms
- ➔ Service and support by East View
- ➔ Hosting by East View when possible

Click on the subject in English, search automatically in Arabic

Type in a search term, in English or in Arabic, and find results in the entire database

East View Information Services – E-Book Approval Plans and Serials

East View has been meeting the foreign language needs of librarians and researchers since 1989

Book Approval Plan

East View's Arabic-language e-book approval plan is similar to approval plans for print publications, but with the ease of online access. Our Arabic and Chinese native speakers select e-books according to your profile from hundreds of thousands of e-books available.

Libraries, together with an East View Account Representative, complete a profile containing general parameters (country, language, special instructions, etc.) and subject parameters. E-books that fall within the profile and according to the designated budget are made accessible, at intervals and budgets determined by the library. Your institution receives discounts based upon the size of the approval plan.

MARC records are supplied free of charge to approval plan customers upon request.

Serials Services

Looking for a reliable supplier for serials from Iran, Turkey, or Egypt? East View also supplies serials from countries of the Caucasus and Central Asia. Our network of representatives allows us to offer by far the largest selection of periodicals, including many hard-to-find titles available nowhere else. Government, academic and special libraries rely on East View for great selection, acclaimed service, prompt dispatch, and guaranteed delivery. For the full list of titles, see our online catalog at www.eastview.com/serials.asp.

- Guarantee ➤ Claims are honored promptly and without charge for any publication under subscription with East View. Replacement issue(s) are provided up to one year following the date of publication; back issues are available at affordable prices to fill collection gaps.
- Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) is available for invoices, purchase orders, and claims.
 - Orders are accepted online, by mail, phone or fax. You may pre-pay your order by using a major credit card, sending a wire, check or money order or listing a purchase order for your institution.

East View Information Services, Inc.

10601 Wayzata Boulevard

Minneapolis, MN 55305-1526 USA

Telephone: 1.952.252.1201

Fax: 1.952.252.1202

US Toll-free: 1.800.477.1005

info@eastview.com

www.eastview.com