Provide today's news from abroad in the same format seen by Washington policymakers.

Monitor unfiltered press dispatches from non-U.S. media sources — in English

World News Connection is an electronic library resource that translates and delivers information from Beijing, Beirut, Bogota, Cairo, Jakarta, Iraq, Mogadishu, Qatar, Ramallah, Sarajevo, Vienna, and hundreds of other datelines every day.

A valuable research tool

Access includes articles going back to 2003, all in English, translated by the US Government with over 300 sources—from Al-Jazirah to Der Spiegel and Radio France Internationale— right in your Web browser.

News sources include newspapers, TV, radio, magazines, conferences and other reports covering the entire world or for regions you choose:

- Africa—North, Sub-Saharan, Western
- Asia—East, South, Near/Middle
- Central Asia/Caucasus
- Europe—Western, Central/Eastern
- Latin America/Caribbean
- Southeast Asia/Oceania

The material in WNC is gathered by the Foreign Broadcast Information Service (FBIS). FBIS is a United States government operation which translates the thousands of foreign media reports from daily broadcasts, government statements, and select news stories from non-English sources around the world.
