

TV RAIN

Research Database

Russia's Only Independent Television Channel

Russian TV RAIN (ТВ ДОЖДЬ) channel is now available for institutional access.

Through a partnership between TV RAIN and East View, institutions may access the TV RAIN archive of thousands of TV programs, reports and interviews through an institution-wide site license via IP-authentication.

The TV RAIN Archive Database (TV RAIN) allows researchers to:

- Browse through TV Rain videotaped programming back to 2010
- Search the archive by Keyword and Date
- Read program transcripts and summaries
- View streaming live feeds of daily news and programs

As one of the top five most-cited television channels in Russia, TV RAIN provides a forum for those opposition leaders denied access to pro-government mass media. TV RAIN has managed to circumvent censorship, offering independent views on current events in Russia and the world and covering sensitive political topics like Crimea, Donbass in East Ukraine, Islamic State and more.

Start your free trial to the TV RAIN Archive Database and access:

- Nearly 60,000 video programs
- Over 65,000 news segments
- Nearly 6,000 interviews
- Approximately 400 investigative reports
- Hundreds of photos
- And more

Contact East View at info@eastview.com to start your trial today!

"Uncensored, live debate between impassioned guests is what distinguishes TV RAIN from all other Russian television. ... RAIN is dedicated to polemic rather than promotion of any party line." Kevin Platt and Karina Sotnik, <https://blogs.wsj.com/speakeasy/2012/08/06/as-pussy-riot-trial-continues-music-and-the-web-become-tools-of-free-expression/>
