

Soviet Military Declassified

Key resource on Soviet military development and strategy

This integrated set of four collections offers a comprehensive reconstruction of the Soviet military knowledge system, bringing together primary documents, analytical research, instructional materials, and the broader intellectual framework that shaped officer training and doctrinal development.

At its core, the resource spans the mid-20th century through the late Soviet period, a formative era during which Soviet military thought was systematized in response to the experience of the Second World War and the strategic demands of the Cold War. These resources collectively illuminate how the Soviet military documented combat experience, analyzed operational problems, formalized doctrine, and transmitted knowledge across generations of officers.

Taken together, these four collections enable researchers to examine Soviet military development not as isolated texts, but as an interconnected structure linking doctrine, analysis, and education.

Soviet Military Declassified Collections

Content may be purchased by collection, sub-collection or as individual volumes. Please inquire for pricing and trial access.

Military Academy Dissertations (159 volumes)

A body of dissertations written by officers in Soviet military academies as part of advanced professional training. Covering operational art, tactics, logistics, military history, and related fields, these works reveal how military problems were analyzed within the educational system and provide insight into the intellectual formation of Soviet commanders.

- Author's Abstracts (32 vols.)
- Books (2 vols.)
- Candidate Dissertations (110 vols.)
- Doctoral Dissertations (16 vols.)

Library of the General Staff Academy (VAGSh) (1,432 volumes)

A diverse collection of instructional and reference publications used within Soviet military academies and research institutions. Spanning operational, historical, and technical subjects, these materials reflect the broader knowledge base that supported officer education and the standardization of military theory and practice.

- Spetskhran Collection: Interwar 1918-1941 (721 vols.)
- Spetskhran Collection-2: Interwar 1918-1941 (447 vols.)
- Imperial Russian Military History (46 vols.)
- Soviet military history—open works (152 vols.)
- Soviet Nuclear/Biological/Chemical weapons and policy (29 vols.)
- Soviet military mapping (7 vols.)
- Soviet Space Program (11 vols.)
- Russian military—open works (19 vols.)

Military Academy Studies and Texts (851 volumes)

Instructional and analytical works produced within the military education system, covering approximately the mid-20th century through the late Soviet period. Often used as teaching materials, these texts illustrate how military theory, operational concepts, and historical experience were structured and transmitted within Soviet officer training.

- Military Academy of the General Staff: Department of Strategy (123 vols.)
- Military Academy of the General Staff: Operations, Tactics, Weapons, History (586 vols.)
- Naval Academy (142 vols.)

Ministry of Defense and General Staff Reports (370 volumes)

A collection of declassified, multi-volume publications produced by the USSR Ministry of Defense and General Staff, including operational reports, directives, war experience studies, and military-geographical analyses. These materials reflect the institutional conclusions of the Soviet military system and provide direct insight into command-level thinking, doctrine, and strategic planning from World War II through the Cold War.

- The Future War: Views of the 1920s and 1930s (7 vols.)
- December 1940 High Command Conference (7 vols.)
- WWII War Experience (26 vols.)
- WWII Combat Documents (43 vols.)
- WWII Military Historical Materials (18 vols.)
- WWII Naval Combat (41 vols.)
- WWII Tactical Examples (23 vols.)
- WWII Naval Aviation (13 vols.)
- Soviet War at Sea: Baltic, Black Sea, Northern, Pacific Theaters and River Flotillas (35 vols.)
- Rear Services in WWII (5 vols.)
- Submarine Warfare (31 vols.)
- Military Personnel in WWII (3 vols.)
- Military Intelligence: Prewar (28 vols.)
- Military Intelligence: WWII and Postwar (11 vols.)
- Order of Battle of Soviet Army (6 vols.)
- Military Bibliography and Archives (42 vols.)
- Order of Battle of German Army (5 vols.)
- Documents of Stavka (4 vols.)
- Archival Documents (7 vols.)
- Soviet-Finnish War (15 vols.)

For more information or trial access, please contact info@eastview.com or visit <https://www.eastview.com/request-trial>

Soviet Military Declassified - <https://www.eastview.com/resources/books-and-e-books/soviet-military-declassified/> - September 4th, 2026 7:34 pm UTC. Product information subject to change without notice. Please refer to eastview.com or contact your East View representative for the most current information.