

East View Press Publications (UDB-EVP)

English-language journals from East View Press on a wide range of topics

The East View Press Publications (UDB-EVP) collection contains eight English-language journals published and/or available exclusively through East View Press, an imprint of East View Information Services. The collection focuses on the geographic region of China, Russia and the former Soviet Union. Topics covered in the collection include domestic politics, international relations, foreign policy, economics, business and commerce, public health, the environment, social sciences, culture, geography, sustainability, and more. UDB-EVP puts a wealth of information about these dynamic regions at your fingertips, and all conveniently in English. The collection also comes loaded with back issues of each title (2010-current) at no extra charge provided a current subscription is maintained.

UDB-EVP Titles

The East View Press Publications collection includes the following content:

Chinese Cultural Relics

Quarterly | 2014-2018 [suspended] | PDF, article-based

The official English translation of the prestigious award-winning Chinese archaeology journal Wenwu (Cultural Relics). Published since the 1950s, Wenwu is well known in China and abroad for its quality articles and in-depth reporting of Chinese archaeological surveys and fieldwork. Until the publication of Chinese Cultural Relics, the information presented in this key resource has only been accessible to those who can read Chinese. Each issue of Chinese Cultural Relics contains select content from recent issues of Wenwu. In addition to high-quality translation, each article includes the same detailed photographs and beautiful hand-drawn illustrations as in the Chinese publication.

International Affairs

Bimonthly | 2010-current | full text and full image

Offering unique, first-hand analysis of major foreign policy and security issues facing Russia and other former Soviet republics, this internationally renowned journal is the English translation of the Russian-language journal Mezhdunarodnaia zhizn, which is published by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation. The editorial board of this journal is traditionally headed by the minister himself, while the journal's contributors are primarily experienced, high-ranking diplomats. As such, International Affairs is an excellent primary source for anyone interested in the course of Russian policy in foreign affairs.

Far Eastern Affairs

Quarterly | 2010-current | full text (newer issues are full text/full image)

A quarterly journal of the Institute for Far Eastern Studies at the Russian Academy of Sciences. Published by East View since 2002, the journal provides in-depth discussion of Russia's relations with China, Japan, North and South Korea, as well as other countries of the Asia-Pacific region. Russia's relations with this region, and with China in particular, are key to understanding the shifting balance of power in today's world. Far Eastern Affairs is an excellent resource for gaining insight into this region and Russia's role in it. It is also the only scholarly Russian journal available in English on this region.

Geography, Environment, Sustainability

Quarterly | 2010-current | PDF, article-based

This scientific English-language journal aims to inform and cover the results of research and global achievements in the sphere of geography, environmental conservation and sustainable development. Included among the major sections of the journal are basics of geography and environmental science; fundamentals of sustainable development; environmental management; human geography; global and regional environmental and climate change; environmental regional planning; applied geographical and environmental studies; geo-informatics and environmental mapping; oil and gas exploration and environmental problems; nature conservation and biodiversity; and environment and health.

Social Sciences

Quarterly | 2010-current | full text (newer issues are full text/full image)

Founded in 1970, this periodical was a tool for promoting the communist approach to social sciences worldwide. Since Gorbachev's perestroika, however, Social Sciences turned into a vivid chronicle of the collapse of the old communist dogmas and the transition to new ways of approaching social, economic and historical issues. Nowadays, this journal presents the most prominent papers and studies appearing in the Russian Academy of Sciences Presidium journal Social Sciences and the Contemporary World. Covering the most pressing issues of Russia's social and economic development, Social Sciences includes articles on philosophy, history, economics, politics, sociology, law, philology, psychology, ethnography, archaeology, literature and culture.

The Current Digest of the Chinese Press

Weekly | 2011-current | full text and full image (newer issues are PDF, article-based)

Each week, The Current Digest of the Chinese Press presents the reader with a digestible collection of Chinese press materials, all in English. Selected articles cover a wide variety of topics, such as politics, international relations, security, economics, business, public health, environment, education, culture and more. The Current Digest's mission is to provide the reader with a comprehensive, broad picture of the news published in China, be it domestic, international or related to other states of the Asia Pacific region. The Current Digest of the Chinese Press offers all readers, regardless of Chinese language ability, a much clearer and more robust view of the current Chinese reality and is a great addition to any English-language resource collection.

The Current Digest of the Russian Press

Weekly | 2010-current | full text and full image (newer issues are PDF, article-based)

The Current Digest of the Russian Press (formerly The Current Digest of the Post-Soviet Press) is a leading publication in the field of Soviet/Russian area studies. Each week, it presents a selection of Russian-language press materials, carefully translated into English. Intended for use in teaching and research, the translations are thus presented as documentary materials without elaboration or commentary. With clearly delineated subject headings, the Current Digest covers such key topics as economics, politics and political reform, foreign policy, international affairs, legal reform, public health, and other social, cultural and legal issues.
