

Russian Islamic Studies (UDB-ISL)

Key publications from Russia's Muslim populations

More than 10% of Russia's population is Muslim. This makes Islam the second most widely professed religion in Russia. Online access is now available to this large and influential community's most important publications through the Russian Islamic Studies (UDB-ISL) collection, which offers a selection of journals and newspapers published in Moscow, Grozny and Makhachkala. This unique collection covers activities of Islamic organizations in Russia and abroad, political and economic developments in the Muslim regions of Russia, the state of Islamic education in Russia, and more.

Key Stats

- Archive: 2004-present
- Language: Russian, Bashkir, Tatar, Chechen
- Country: Russia
- Frequency: Varies
- Updates: Continuous
- Format: PDF, article-based
- Producer: East View Information Services
- Platform: East View Universal Database

UDB-ISL Titles

Active titles in the Russian Islamic Studies collection include:

Islam v sovremennom mire (Ислам в современном мире, Islam in the Modern World) is an important publication by the respectable MEDINA publishing house from Russia. Published quarterly, this journal covers the issues of Islamic studies in Russia, CIS, Europe and Middle East. Contents include articles covering the problem of Islamophobia, Muslim organizations in the world, the "Arab Spring" and its political consequences in the Middle East, the issues of demography, integration, labor market in Islamic countries, the policy of Western states toward Islamic states and much more.

Islam v SNG (Ислам в странах Содружества Независимых Государств, Islam in the CIS) is devoted to a wide range of issues of the CIS countries, including international relations, political science, religious studies, sociology, history, cultural studies, philology, economics and finance, Islamic studies, law, and more. Geographically, the authors focus on the study of Azerbaijan, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan.

Minaret Islama (Минарет Ислама, Minaret of Islam) is a quarterly, 10,000 circulation journal for the researchers of Islam and Islamic Studies. Its authors include the leading Islamic scholars, political and religious figures of Russia, as well as foreign experts on the subject. The archive goes back to 2004.

View the full title list and holdings at https://www.eastview.com/eastview_udb-isl/

For more information or trial access, please contact info@eastview.com or visit <https://www.eastview.com/request-trial>

Russian Islamic Studies – <https://www.eastview.com/resources/journals/russian-islamic-studies/> – December 19th, 2025 6:24 am UTC. Product information subject to change without notice. Please refer to eastview.com or contact your East View representative for the most current information.

