In East and Southeast Asia, there were British officials in Beijing, Shanghai, Hong Kong, Singapore, Taiwan, Tokyo, and more, all in the effort to further trade relations. Mass Mobilization in China to Battle Epidemic (China News Agency, Jan. 27, 2020. Complete text: Beijing – China extended the Spring Festival holiday and postponed school openings on Monday [Jan. 27], while transport restrictions have been adopted in various areas in further contains the coronavirus epidemic.

The seven-day Spring Festival vacation, scheduled to end on Jan. 30, was extended to Feb. 2. Universities, primary and middle schools and kindergartens across the country will postpone the opening of the spring semester until further notice, according to the General Office of the State Council.

Enforced by Xi Jinping, general secretary of the Communist Party of China (CPC) Central Committee, Premier Li Keqiang on the Political Bureau of the CPC Central Committee, thanked front-line medical workers, military and community staff, as well as the whole society for their hard work.

China’s eastern region, including Beijing, Tianjin, Shandong and Zhejiang, effectively contained the virus by adopting quick diagnosis and treatment, isolating infected patients and close contacts and setting up fever clinics.

In Beijing, Li required efforts to control the spread of pneumonia caused by the novel coronavirus.

“We must give full play to the mobilization ability of primary-local communities, including village committees, in personnel training and management among efforts to curb the spread of the virus,” said Li’s45, an official with the National Health Commission on Monday.

Since measures have been implemented in rural areas.

“We guarantee staff members are all working eight hours. We have been visiting households and monitoring body temperatures of returning migrant workers every day,” said Wu Zhaohui, Party staff officer of a subdistrict office in the city of Shangrao, eastern China’s Jiangxi Province.

Yang Xianru, a villager in Lanxiu county, northeast China’s Heilongjiang Province, planned to hold a large dinner party for her one-month-old grandson during the Spring Festival. However, she decided to postpone it because of the spreading coronavirus.

“Do you have a fever? Have you had close contact with any patients? Do you have any respiratory symptoms?” Mr. Li from Chengdu, Sichuan Province, typed on his phone.

“I have ‘seen’ over 50 patients every day since the launch of the online medical consultation platform. Some of the patients are very nervous,” said Liu Jie, a doctor from the city of Liangxian in Shaanxi Province.

“During the Spring Festival holidays, I was asked to go to the hospital and check my body temperature every day. After being told that I did not need to rush to the hospital and take a course of drugs, I was relieved,” said Yang, an employee in a factory in Shenzhen, Guangdong Province.

Although the Spring Festival holiday has ended, the political bureau of the National Health Commission asked front-line staff members to continue their work.

“We can’t tire in the fight against the epidemic. I will invite everybody over to celebrate when the outbreak is over.”

said Yang. “I will invite everybody over to celebrate when the outbreak is over.”
