OVERVIEW AND BACKGROUND

The National Census of 1960 in Argentina was carried out September 30, 1960 for jurisdictions north of the Colorado River and on November 4, 1960 for jurisdictions to its south. The census was handled by the National Directorate of Statistics and Censuses in accordance with the provisions of Law no. 14,046. This census was the fifth national census in Argentina, and the first to be carried out in the country since 1947. It also marks the first census in the current ten-year census cycle, as encouraged by international agreements and the current constitution of Argentina. 20,013,793 inhabitants were enumerated.
