LENINGRADSKAIA PRAVDA (1918–1991)
Leningradskia Pravda is perhaps best known for continuously publishing during the Siege of Leningrad (1941–1944), during which time only a single issue did not appear. Read more on page 4.

LOCAL AND INDEPENDENT UKRAINIAN NEWSPAPERS (1989–2001)
The newest community-driven project with the Center for Research Libraries is the Local and Independent Ukrainian Newspapers collection. This community-supported collection presents over 900 titles, offering scholars a regionally diverse archive preserving the first decade of post-Soviet press across Ukraine. The collection includes local newspapers of record from over 340 cities and towns across Ukraine. All told, it features dozens of publications from each of the 25 provincial-level units of Ukraine, including Crimea. The majority of titles are in Ukrainian (about 80%) and in Russian (about 15%), with other languages represented, including Azeri, English, German, Hebrew, Polish, Crimean Tatar, and more. The collection is available as Open Access to scholars at affiliated institutions of the Center for Research Libraries. Read more on page 5.

SOVIET-ERA UKRAINIAN NEWSPAPERS (1900–1939)
This archive offers broad coverage of Ukraine during its history as part of the USSR, providing a complement to East View’s Ukrainian Publications (UDB-UKR) database and the titles in the Local and Independent Ukrainian Newspapers collection, which covers the early post-Soviet years. The collection is available as Open Access to scholars at affiliated institutions of the Center for Research Libraries. Read more on page 6.

ARGUMENTY I FAKTY (FROM 1983)
(Аргументы и факты, Arguments and Facts)
This weekly newspaper based in Moscow once had the largest circulation of any periodical in the world. During the Gorbachev era, Argumenty i fakty publicized the policy of glasnost.

BELARUS ANTI-FASCIST RESISTANCE PRESS (1943–1945)
Many publications were printed by underground resistance groups in secret printing press facilities operating in small Belarusian towns in German-occupied territories, while others were distributed by Belarusian partisan detachments operating from remote areas of Belarus.

CHERNOBYL NEWSPAPERS (1979–1990)
Three previously unavailable local newspapers (Трунда Енергетика, Прапор перемоги, and Трунда пратс) published in towns in the exclusion zone and its immediate vicinity offering researchers essential information for the study of the social background of the Chernobyl disaster.

CURRENT DIGEST OF THE RUSSIAN PRESS (FROM 1949)
Going into its 75th year, select content on the most important issues from the most authoritative Soviet and Russian newspapers is translated into English. Consistently published since 1949, it documents post-World War II history, from the Soviet atomic bomb to the collapse of an empire, to the present day. For a current subscription, see page 20.

DEMOKRATYCHNA UKRAINA (1992–2020)
(Демократична Україна, Democratic Ukraine)
After many years of publishing in Russian and renamed in 1991, this newspaper started publishing in Ukrainian and altered its editorial policies to allow and, in fact, encourage a new kind of journalism that valued democratic ideas and ideals.

DONETSK AND LUHANSK NEWSPAPERS (2013–2018)
This database of ten rare newspapers from the self-proclaimed Donetsk and Luhansk republics of Ukraine covers the period of military hostilities between the unrecognized states and the government of Ukraine. Sources primarily in Russian.

ESTONIIA (1992–2009)
(Эстония, Estonia)
This popular Russian-language newspaper, published in Tallinn, was established soon after the Estonian declaration of independence. After experiencing steady growth and financial backing, the newspaper changed its name to Vesti dnia in 2004. The newspaper ceased publication in 2009.

GUDOK (FROM 1918)
(Гудок, Whistle)
Founded in 1917, Gudok began as a small newspaper focused on rail industry news, but grew into a 700,000-circulation daily mixing commentary and satire on culture and politics. Contributors include Ilya Ilf, Mikhail Zoshchenko, Lev Slavin, Sasha Krasny, and other notable authors and journalists.

HOLOS UKRAINY (FROM 1991)
(Голос України, Voice of Ukraine)
The official organ of the Ukrainian parliament, the Verkhovna Rada. The newspaper’s primary focus is the coverage of politics, policy, legislative matters, and economic issues affecting Ukraine.

IMPERIAL RUSSIAN NEWSPAPERS: OPEN ACCESS
An Open Access archive of out-of-copyright newspapers from the 18th, 19th and early 20th centuries, up to the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution. The core titles are from Moscow and St. Petersburg as well as regional titles from across the vast Russian Empire. This is a GPA CRL Alliance collection, with Open Access sponsored by the Center for Research Libraries.

IZVESTIIA (FROM 1917)
(Известия, News)
During the Soviet era, Izvestia was the official newspaper of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the USSR. Izvestia was a popular news source among intellectual and academic circles, especially during the Khrushchev era “thaw” when the paper’s editors advocated de-Stalinization and reform.

KAVKAZ (1846–1918)
(Кавказ, The Caucasus)
The first Russian newspaper published in the Caucasus, Kavkaz published official documents of the Russian Empire, as well as many historical, cultural and archeological writings by prominent public and cultural figures of the local intelligentsia.

KOMMERSANT (FROM 1992)
(Коммерсантъ, The Businessman)
Founded in 1989, this is one of the most influential and important newspapers to have emerged in post-Soviet Russia. Modeled largely after The Wall Street Journal and the Financial Times, Kommersant reported on the new economic situation and the emergence of the new entrepreneurial class.

NEW! LENINGRADSKAIA PRAVDA (1918–1991)
(Ленинградская правда, Leningrad Truth)
The only complete digital archive of Petrogradskaiia Pravda and Leningradskaiia Pravda, the local Saint Petersburg newspapers during the period of the Soviet Union. This title covers pivotal events in Russian and world history from a local perspective, including the Russian Revolution (1917–1923) and WWII (1939 –1945).
LITERATURNAIA GAZETA (FROM 1929)
(Литературная газета, Literary Newspaper)
The most open among newspapers of the Soviet era, Literaturnaia gazeta remains popular among the intelligentsia in today’s Russia. Spanning decades of Russia’s literary and intellectual life, Literaturnaia gazeta often pushed the limits of censorship in expressing views on society, culture, art, and domestic policies.

NEW! LOCAL AND INDEPENDENT UKRAINIAN NEWSPAPERS (1989–2001)
The collection includes local newspapers of record from over 340 cities and towns across Ukraine. All told, it features dozens of publications from each of the 25 provincial-level units of Ukraine, including Crimea. The majority of titles are in Ukrainian (about 80%) and in Russian (about 15%), with others represented, including Azeri, English, German, Hebrew, Polish, Crimean Tatar, and more. This is a GPA CRL Alliance collection and is available as Open Access to scholars at affiliated institutions of the Center for Research Libraries.

MOSCOW NEWS (1930–2014)
The oldest English-language newspaper in Russia started out as a mouthpiece of the Communist party but later became an influential advocate for social and political change. The pages of Moscow News reflect the shifting ideological, political, social and economic currents that swept through the Soviet Union and Russia in the last century.

(Народна армія, People’s Army)
This Ukrainian-language publication details the creation, reform, and redevelopment of the Armed Forces of Ukraine.

NARODNA HAZETA (1990–2009)
(Народна газета, People’s Newspaper)
This Ukrainian-language publication was pro-independence, anti-communist, and provided detailed coverage of the lead-up to the first democratic elections held in the Ukrainian SSR.

NEDELIA (1960–1999)
(Неделя, The Week)
Established in 1960 and originally a Sunday supplement of Izvestiiia, this publication focused on cultural and social news, with some politics, keeping propaganda at a minimum. The “Guests of page 13” regularly featured interviews with popular Soviet celebrities.

NEUES DEUTSCHLAND (FROM 1946)
(New Germany)
Established in East Berlin in 1946 at the Cold War’s epicenter, this newspaper chronicled the establishment of the German Democratic Republic, the Berlin Airlift, the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989, the reunification of Germany, and much more. It continues publishing today as one of Germany’s national dailies.

(Независимость, Independence)
One of the most popular newspapers in the early years of Ukrainian independence, this Russian-language newspaper covered domestic and international politics, business and economic affairs, and popular culture.

NOWY DZIENNIK (1971–2021)
(The New Daily)
The largest independent Polish-language newspaper in the United States serves as a key source of information for the Polish émigré community. Its opinion-forming reporting covers current social, political, sports, cultural, and religious events.

NOVAIA GAZETA (1993–2022)
(Новая газета, The New Newspaper)
The digital archive of the popular Moscow newspaper that focuses on investigative reporting, exposing corruption, abuses of power and violation of laws amongst government structures and financial-industrial circles. In 2021, the Editor-in-Chief, Dmitry Muratov, was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

NOVOE RUSSKOE SLOVO (1918–2010)
(Новое русское слово, New Russian Word)
The premier newspaper of the Russian émigré community in New York and beyond both documented and shaped the Russian immigrant experience in the United States in significant ways.

POLIARNAIA KOCHEGARKA (1941–1991)
(Полярная кочегарка, Polar Furnace)
This weekly newspaper was published on the Svalbard archipelago from 1934 to 1991. During the Cold War, the Svalbard (Spitsbergen) Treaty opened up research activities on the archipelago which led to the curious case of citizens of NATO and Warsaw pact countries coexisting peacefully side by side in the Arctic North.

POST-PERESTROIKA NEWSPAPERS (FROM 1984)
The Post-Perestroika Newspapers collection traces the evolution of post-Soviet Russia, with coverage beginning in the mid 1980s and extending well into the twenty-first century. The newspapers in this collection document the changes taking place in Russia, some with breathtaking speed, all the while embracing innovative journalistic methods and standards that were a far cry from the journalism of the Soviet period. This is a GPA CRL Alliance collection and is available as Open Access to scholars at affiliated institutions of the Center for Research Libraries.

PRAVDA (FROM 1912)
(Правда, Truth)
The most widely read and referenced news source from the Soviet era. Researchers can search through the chief chronicle of Russian and Soviet history, from the beginnings of the Russian Revolution through the Cold War, the fall of the Soviet Union, to today.

PRAVDA UKRAINY (1938–2014)
(Правда Украины, Ukraine Truth)
The newspaper of record from 1938, Pravda Ukrainy was the Ukrainian Communist Party’s leading print media disseminating the party’s opinions on politics, culture, economics and other issues, until the August coup of 1991. Afterwards, Pravda Ukrainy transitioned into a publication that embraced democratic principles and independent journalism, until it ceased in 2014.

ROSSIIASKAIA GAZETA (FROM 1990)
(Российская газета, Russian Newspaper)
Founded in 1990 by the government of the Russian Federation, Rossiiaskaia gazeta is a newspaper of public record based in Moscow, with 13 regional offices, and foreign bureaus, although it does publish commentaries and opinions that differ from official government positions and features interviews with influential Russian politicians, and business and cultural figures.

SLOVO KRYGYZSTANA (FROM 1925)
(Слово Кыргызстана, Word of Kyrgyzstan)
A Russian-language newspaper that served as the official party organ of the Central Committee of the Kirghiz SSR throughout its Soviet existence. Since 1991, Slovo Kyrgyzstan is an independent publication covering both national and international affairs, culture, economics, and more.
NEW! SOVIET-ERA UKRAINIAN NEWSPAPERS (1900–1939)
This archive offers broad coverage of Ukraine during its history as part of the USSR, providing a complement to East View’s Ukrainian Publications (UDB-UKR) database and the titles in the Local and Independent Ukrainian Newspapers collection, which covers the early post-Soviet years. This is a GPA CRL Alliance collection and is available as Open Access to scholars at affiliated institutions of the Center for Research Libraries.

SOVETSKAIA KUL’TURA (FROM 1929)
(Советская культура, Soviet Culture)
Kul’tura, as it is known today, is the most important Soviet and Russian publication on culture from 1929 to the present. Previously published under a number of titles, this publication provided a unique perspective on ever-changing attitudes toward arts and culture in Soviet and Russian societies, with reviews of major events in literature, theater, cinematography, and arts.

TRUD (FROM 1930)
(Труд, Labor)
The official newspaper of the All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions, this was a very influential newspaper during the Soviet era. Among its regular contributors were such notable poets as Vladimir Mayakovsky and Yevgeny Yevtushenko. The newspaper has survived to the current era and has become a reliable source for news and popular culture reportage.

TURKMENSKAIÁ ISKRA (1943–1995)
(Туркменская искра, The Turkmens Spark)
Founded in 1924 in Ashgabat, Turkmenskaiá iskra was the official party newspaper of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Turkmenistan in Russian. POLITEKHNIK (1969–2012)
(Политехник, The Polytechnic Student)
The Harbin Polytechnic Institute was established in 1920 by the Russian émigré community in Harbin, China, one of the most influential centers of Russian life in the East. Designed to prepare engineers and other personnel for the burgeoning railway network, the Institute would become one of the most important educational centers in China and a hub of Russian intellectual and cultural life.

PROBLEMY KITAIA (1929–1935)
(Проблемы Китая, Issues in Chinese Studies)
Founded in 1929 under the aegis of the Scientific-Research Institute on China, Problemy Kitaia was pre-WWII Soviet Union’s preeminent scholarly journal dedicated to the social-scientific study of China until its closure in 1935.

RUSSKAIA LITERATURA (FROM 1958)
(Русская литература, Russian Literature)
An authoritative, scholarly journal of literary criticism featuring biographical information and criticism of Russian and Soviet authors in various genres. The journal features numerous research papers, discussion pieces, analytical articles and critical essays concerning classical and modern writers and poets of Russia.
RUSSKII ARKHIV (1863–1917) (Русский архив, Russian Archive)
A publication of archival documents celebrating Russia’s renowned literary and artistic culture, including those devoted to the life and work of Alexander Pushkin, letters by numerous Decembrists, accounts of Peter the Great’s reforms, and more, including valuable materials on the history of social movements (especially Slavophilism), literature, life, and customs of the Russian people.

SEANS (FROM 1990) (Сеанс, Seance)
Housed on the premises of Lenfilm studio, the quarterly journal was conceived as a trade publication reporting on the goings-on of the domestic and foreign film industries, eventually becoming the go-to resource for the modern Russian-speaking cineaste of today.

SLAVIANE (1942–1958) (Славяне, Slavs)
Established by the All-Slavic Committee at the height of the Great Patriotic War to “rally Slavic peoples together in alliance with all freedom-loving peoples to fight against Nazi Germany and its vassals,” the journal became a platform for intellectuals and politicians from Slavic countries.

SOCIAL SCIENCES (FROM 1970)
Social Sciences includes articles from various institutes of the Russian Academy of Sciences on philosophy, history, economics, politics, sociology, law, philology, psychology, ethnography, archaeology, literature and culture. For a current subscription, see page 20.

Sovetskii Ekran, once the largest film publication in the world, offered an unprecedented look into the production secrets and the creative lives of actors and directors—serving as a portal into the magical world of cinema.

An Open Access collection available to researchers globally thanks to the generous support of Monash University Library, with funding from the Ada Booth Benefaction. This is the Soviet Union’s premier scientific public health journal covering issues related to public health, social hygiene, health policy, and health education.

SOVET WOMAN (1945–1991)
Soviet Woman countered anti-Soviet propaganda by introducing Western audiences to the lifestyle of Soviet women, including their role in the post-WWII rebuilding of the Soviet economy, and their achievements in the arts and the sciences. It ceased with the collapse of the USSR in 1991.

STARYE GODY (1907–1916) (Старые годы, The Bygone Years)

From the 16th century onward, Great Britain established consulates wherever possible. There were British officials throughout the Balkans, Caucasus, and other areas of Eastern Europe, all in an effort to further trade relations. The by-product was a steady stream of written information and observations on the national heritage and political developments of many countries, made at a local level. These reports were preserved as historically authentic documents in facsimile, as well as numerous maps.

Document-level citations and rich indexing has immeasurably enhanced the value and discoverability of the content in this collection.

The material is particularly rich for the study of boundary formation, claims and disputes, allowing users to easily find unique insight in maps, government documents, and more.

Collection titles include:
- Albania and Kosovo: Political and Ethnic Boundaries 1867–1946
- Armenia: Political and Ethnic Boundaries 1878–1958
- Bosnia, Croatia, Serbia: Historical Boundaries 1815–1945
- Caucasian Boundaries: Documents and Maps 1802–1946
- Ethnic Minorities in the Balkan States 1860–1971
- Greece: Ethnicity and Sovereignty 1820–1994
- Montenegro: Political and Ethnic Boundaries 1840–1920
- Oil Resources in Eastern Europe and the Caucasus 1885–1978

SOVIET ANTI-RELIGIOUS PROPAGANDA
East View has digitized a collection of 275 e-books that are most emblematic of Soviet anti-religious fervor. They were published mainly in the 1920s and 1930s on a variety of atheist or anti-religious topics, with titles including Christianity versus Communism, Church versus Democracy, and The Trial of God.

SOVIET ERA MILITARY MATERIALS
The Soviet Era Military Materials Collection chronicles Soviet military force posture, combat operations, strategy, and tactics, including fascinating details on the Red Army, Navy, and legendary battles (Kursk, Northern Theater, Leningrad). Researchers will find new insights and rare documents on military campaigns waged by Soviet Armed Forces. Also available are documents on Russian combat operations, troop conditions, as well as Soviet wars with Japan and Finland in the 1930s, Soviet involvement in the Spanish Civil War, and a rare Warsaw Pact journal collection.

UKRAINIAN STUDIES
East View’s Ukrainian Studies research collections are primary source documents covering uprisings against the Russian Empire, the Prosvita Society (a pro-Ukrainian cultural organization), the Stolypin assassination, the short-lived government and secret police of Hetman Skoropadsky, and Ukraine under Nazi occupation, including guerilla activities during Nazi occupation.

UKRAINE BETWEEN THE WARS
Primarily concentrated between the years 1912 and 1929, the items in this collection illuminate the concerns of intellectuals and politicians during Ukrainians’ early attempts at statehood and initial experience of Sovietization. Many books, especially those depicting artwork, are richly illustrated in full color. Most of the materials were published in Ukraine, Russia and the Soviet Union, but a handful of books were printed in important centers of Ukrainian émigré life such as Canada, Germany, France, the U.K. and the U.S.

WORLD NEWS CONNECTION
The same source that researchers have turned to for unfiltered press dispatches, methodically translated into English by the US Government since 1995, is now available as an archive from East View. With content from over 500 news sources from 130 countries, the US Government discontinued daily updates for World News Connection (WNC) on December 31, 2013, so it is only available as an online archive. East View offers this resource (1995–2013) online.
East View’s Social Movements, Elections, Ephemera series offers the most comprehensive collection of election-related material to date from the countries of the former USSR, preserved for easy digital access. Representing a vast repository of primary source material from both presidential and parliamentary elections, as well as notable social movements, this series embodies a unique “first stop” for policy analysts and observers of electoral politics in the region. Resources in the series include party programs, propaganda materials, special newspaper editions, handbills, literature produced by political parties or candidates, and more. Books for Slavic Studies

COMING SOON! PUBLIC PROTECTION OR REPRESSION?
RUSSIA’S ANTI-EXTREMISM LAW ENFORCEMENT
In this new book, research by the SOVA Center for Information and Analysis on Russia’s evolving anti-extremism laws presents evidence that, far from safeguarding citizens from hate crimes, this legislation harbors a not-so-hidden agenda: silencing dissent.

BLACK GARDEN AFLAME: THE NAGORNO-KARABAKH CONFLICT IN THE SOVIET AND RUSSIAN PRESS
Pulled from a vast repository of Russian-language press curated by East View and carefully translated into English on the Nagorno-Karabakh conflict through the lens of Moscow, along with some insight into its complex historical, political and ethnic underpinnings.

RUSSIA AND THE MIDDLE EAST
A collection of articles and essays paints an intriguing portrait of Russia’s Middle East vision and how it has developed over the last two decades. Carefully selected by Fyodor Lukyanov, editor-in-chief of the acclaimed journal Russia in Global Affairs, many pieces are by officials who had a direct part in crafting Russian policy in this dynamic region: from the late Yevgeny Primakov; to longtime Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov, UN adviser Vladimir Orlov, and Energy Minister Aleksandr Novak.

RUSSIANS ON TRUMP: PRESS COVERAGE AND COMMENTARY
No relationship has been reported on or analyzed as much as the one between the US’s 45th president and its former cold war rival. Now Russians on Trump gives you the perspective of the Russians themselves. News, analysis and commentary about Trump, drawn directly from the Russian press – before 2016, during the election campaign, and after his surprise win – fill crucial gaps in the knowledge of what the Trump-Russia relationship means to both sides.

WAR IN SYRIA
Fills a unique niche in political and military studies by presenting key events in the Syrian civil war – the deadliest conflict of the last 15 years – from a perspective that differs markedly from Western reportage.

ELITE WARRIORS
The Centre for Analysis of Strategies and Technologies (CAST), a Moscow-based think tank focused on military and security issues, present a collection of essays by leading military and security analysts. This book offers a detailed assessment of the organization and capabilities of a selection of special operations forces from around the world.

BROTHERS ARMED: MILITARY ASPECTS OF THE CRISIS IN UKRAINE (SECOND EDITION)
Provides military context for and unprecedented detail about the strategic confrontation between Russia and Ukraine leading to the annexation of Crimea and outbreak of conflict in eastern Ukraine, bringing greater balance and detail, more candor and increased objectivity to a subject fraught with confusion, misunderstanding, and historical animosities.

TERRAIN ANALYSIS OF UKRAINE
This unique publication delivers a descriptive and visual geographic knowledge base of Ukraine’s population, roads, topography and soils, hydrology, vegetation and climate. Published in English for the first time, and supplemented with hundreds of full-color topographic and soil maps, this publication makes an abundance of detailed local geographic data accessible to a global audience.

STRATEGY
A translation of the second edition of Aleksandr Svechin’s seminal work, Strategy. Svechin (1878–1938) was an outstanding Russian military theoretician and widely recognized as the “Soviet Clausewitz.” This book, strongly influenced by the writings and analyses of the contemporary and classic European figures of Svechin’s day, represents his concept of the best approach to national security for the Soviet state.

АРХИВ ВНЕШНЕЙ ПОЛИТИКИ РОССИЙСКОЙ ИМПЕРИИ
A guidebook to the archives of tsarist Russia’s Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Opens the files on the documents, letters and communiqués driving Russia’s foreign policy from the late 16th century through 1917. A reference to over 500,000 documents in about 400 record groups, primarily encompassing the years 1720 to 1917, with some documents dating from 1537. In Russian.
Scholarly Journals in English

East View Press journals focus on the regions of Russia and the CIS, East Asia and the Asia Pacific, and cover a broad range of topics including politics, foreign relations, economics, military affairs, history, literature, culture, and archaeology. Read more: eastviewpress.com.

THE CURRENT DIGEST OF THE RUSSIAN PRESS: A WEEKLY SELECTION OF TRANSLATED ARTICLES FROM MAJOR RUSSIAN NEWSPAPERS

Published since 1949, this leading publication in the field of Soviet/Russian area studies presents a weekly selection of Russian-language press materials, carefully translated into English. Intended for use in teaching and research, the translations are thus presented as documentary materials without elaboration or commentary, and state the opinions and views of the original authors, not the publishers of the journal. Published weekly; ISSN 2159-3612 (print), ISSN 2159-3639 (online). For access to content from 1949, East View also offers The Current Digest of the Russian Press Digital Archive (see page 4).

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS: A RUSSIAN JOURNAL OF WORLD POLITICS, DIPLOMACY AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Offering unique, first-hand analysis of major foreign policy and security issues facing Russia and other former Soviet republics, this internationally renowned journal is the English translation of the Russian-language journal Mezhdunarodnaia zhizn (www.interaffairs.ru), published by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation. The editorial board of this journal is traditionally headed by the minister himself, while the journal’s contributors are primarily experienced, high-ranking diplomats. Published bimonthly; ISSN 0130-9641 (print), ISSN 1938-2588 (online). For access to content from 1954, East View also offers the International Affairs digital archive (see page 6).

SOCIAL SCIENCES: A QUARTERLY JOURNAL OF THE RUSSIAN ACADEMY OF SCIENCES

Social Sciences presents the most prominent papers and studies appearing in the Russian Academy of Sciences Presidium journal Social Sciences and the Contemporary World on Russia’s social and economic development, covering philosophy, history, economics, politics, sociology, law, philology, psychology, ethnography, archeology, literature, and culture. Published quarterly; ISSN 0134-5486 (print), ISSN 1938-2553 (online). For access to content from 1970 East View also offers the Social Sciences digital archive (see page 8).

MILITARY THOUGHT: A RUSSIAN JOURNAL OF MILITARY THEORY AND STRATEGY

The elite military journal known in Russia as Voennaia mysl’ was founded in 1918 and was classified for nearly 70 years. Since 1990, East View has published the English translation of this journal as Military Thought. As an organ of the Russian Defense Ministry, the journal’s contributors are top military personnel and leading lecturers from Russian military universities and colleges. Military Thought publishes studies on the experience of modern war (especially local wars and armed conflicts), with special attention paid to the moral and psychological training of military personnel and the education and legal support of the Russian military establishment. Published quarterly; ISSN 0869-5936 (print), ISSN 1938-257X (online). For access to historical content from 1990, East View also offers the Military Thought digital archive (see page 7).

FAR EASTERN AFFAIRS: A RUSSIAN JOURNAL ON CHINA, JAPAN, AND ASIA-PACIFIC REGION

Far Eastern Affairs is a quarterly peer-reviewed journal of the Russian Academy of Sciences’ Institute for China and Contemporary Asia (formerly known as the Institute for Far Eastern Studies). The journal presents Russian approaches toward China, Japan, and other emerging powerhouses of the Asian/Pacific rim. Published quarterly; ISSN 0206-149X (print), ISSN 1947-2641 (online). For access to historical content from 1974, East View also offers the Far Eastern Affairs digital archive (see page 6).

DIGITIZATION SERVICES
It’s in the DNA of libraries to provide their researchers with the best and most extensive access to information, but the nature of print or microform collections limits access to researchers unable to visit the library during open hours.

Digitizing these unique collections helps libraries connect those resources with their researchers and researchers to your resources.

Partner with East View to convert materials currently in hard-to-use (microform) or deteriorating physical formats into digital resources accessible from any authenticated location 24/7.

We offer a full range of services for digital conversion and hosting, including:
• Digitization and OCRing
• Sourcing materials to complete collections
• Custom metadata creation
• Rights diligence
• Project management
• Development of Open Access or Hybrid Open Access products
• Archival preservation

HOSTING FOR LONG-TERM ONLINE ACCESS
When you work with East View to digitize your collections you are getting so much more than just scanning services. We can handle the entire digitization, conversion and hosting process, consulting with you every step of the way to make sure the end product is customized to suit the exact needs of your collection.

Have a collection with both simplified and Traditional Chinese characters? Working with Church Slavonic? East View has the expertise to create the best solution for your needs.

East View has over 30 years’ experience working with area studies materials. We understand the challenges that come with working with non-Roman scripts, we know which platforms work best for different languages, and we can help you navigate the options to create a resource that meets your goals for scholarship and your collection. This is expertise that not many other outfits can match.

About East View

For over 30 years, East View has been providing high-quality information products and services in foreign languages and in English to a wide array of academic, commercial, and government customers throughout the world.

We started out small, back when the Cold War was ending and real and figurative walls were crumbling down. The secret military publication Military Thought was newly declassified, and we sought ways to make it generally available to the world. We obtained the rights and started down the path of becoming a provider of Slavic resources.

Thus East View was born, providing a glimpse of happenings in the East for those in the West.

As the USSR continued to disintegrate, East View became a reliable source for all things Russian for governments, international companies, librarians, researchers, and analysts.

We strive to become your supplier of choice by offering more choices from Eastern Europe than any other company. Our suite of offerings include books from far flung regions, periodicals in print or online, research collections in any format, Universal Database online collections, and more. We also collaborate with other organizations to create resources like the Imperial Russian Newspapers Open Access collection, made possible thanks to the active support of the National Library of Russia and through the generous support of the Center for Research Libraries and its member institutions.

Whether you seek best-sellers from Moscow, the latest census data from Kazakhstan, fine arts content from Prague, or legal information from Russia, East View already has it or can procure it. East View is committed to sourcing uncommon information from extraordinary places. Our Slavic offerings continue traditions started over three decades ago.

We look forward to serving you.
